

EMAAR JOINS HANDS WITH BEIJING NEW AEROPOLIS HOLDINGS TO DEVELOP THE AERO-ECONOMIC AREA OF BEIJING DAXING INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

News / Airports / Routes

At a ceremony held at the China National International Convention Centre, Dubai-based global developer Emaar today signed a memorandum of understanding with Beijing New Aeropolis Holdings (BNA) to jointly develop a Business and Tourism Complex, integrating retail, entertainment, office, hotel hospitality, convention, sport, art and lifestyle functions in a one-stop solution within the Aero-Economic Area of Beijing Daxing International Airport, set to be the largest airport in the world.

Emaar and BNA will work closely to drive diversified collaboration and actively accelerate the share of resources to boost the establishment of the Aero-Economic Area.

Emaar is a leading provider of premium lifestyles based in Dubai, UAE and develops lifestyle destinations in several high-growth markets globally. The group has a land bank of 1.6 billion square feet globally.

In addition to Downtown Dubai – home to Burj Khalifa and The Dubai Mall, among the world's most popular attractions; waterfront development Dubai Marina; and the ground-breaking Dubai Creek Harbour, Emaar has strong income-generating assets, with over 915,000 square metres of rental income assets and 19 hotels and resorts.

Emaar has several landmark projects in the Middle East, North Africa, the US, Europe and South Asia. The group plays an important role in driving China-UAE strategic partnership and is actively exploring the Chinese market as part of the Belt Road Initiative.
