

PLEASURE TO MEET - NEW LOOK OF CAMBRIDGE CITY AIRPORT

News / Airports / Routes, Events / Festivals

Cambridge City Airport has unveiled its contemporary new branding and website showcasing all of the features that make it one of the UK's most well equipped regional airports.

The website is part of an extensive marketing campaign and details all the services on offer, including charter and business flights, full fueling and ground services, air traffic control, hangar space and aircraft parking, equine transportation and flight training.

"We've haven't done a great deal of PR or marketing over recent years but with the recent announcement about plans for our aerospace business to relocate it's really important that we spread the message that Cambridge City Airport is still very much open for business," said Airport Director, Kevan Craske.

"We have a great story to tell, both in terms of our facilities and equipment, and our amazing location so close to one of the UK's most famous and thriving cities.

“There is tremendous potential at the airport, in Cambridge and the surrounding area, and we are ideally placed to exploit that and grow business. Our new logo and website will help us do that. They are vibrant, eye-catching and modern, and really help us tell the world we’re well and truly open for business.”

The new airport website <https://cambridgeairport.com/> goes live today!
