

AEROTRANS AND AVIAPAGES.COM ARE ENLARGING THE JOINT COOPERATION

News / Business aviation

The leader in the flight support services for business aviation has made placement in the new B2B platform Aviapages.com.

From this very moment the business aviation industry members can plan their flights and choose the flight support services just in a few clicks. Furthermore, all the information about locations where Aerotrans provides its services is available in the directory "Airports". In the same time, the precise mathematical model of the flight calculation and planning allows to save significantly operator's and broker's time.

In the both companies are confident the consolidation of services in one resource will be highly evaluated by the business aviation industry members.

27 AUGUST 2015

ARTICLE LINK:

<https://virginia.50skyshades.com/news/business-aviation/aerotrans-and-aviapagescom-are-enlarging-the-joint-cooperation>