Jet Aviation Vienna was recently appointed an official Gulfstream Factory Authorized Service Center for the Gulfstream G550 model aircraft.

To support customer demand in Vienna and the region, particularly Eastern Europe, Jet Aviation Vienna has been appointed an OEM-approved Gulfstream Factory Authorized Service Center for Gulfstream G550 aircraft. The company will continue to expand its service offerings in Vienna to support its integrated “hub and spoke” business service model and meet the regional volume of business.

“Our goal is to ensure customers have access to services closer to geographical demand,” says Senior Vice President of MRO and FBO Operations in EMEA and Asia Stefan Benz. “Demand for services in the region is high and our facility in Vienna is well situated to handle higher maintenance volumes to support our base maintenance centers in Basel and Geneva.”

“We are delighted to expand our capabilities and offer warranty support to Gulfstream G550 owners and operators flying in the region,” says Dennis Kohr, managing director of Jet Aviation Vienna. “I am very proud of our dedicated team for proving their capabilities and achieving yet another milestone for Jet Aviation Vienna.”
