News / Events / Festivals

Meanwhile for the 6th time now Aviation Screening is organising the European Business Aviation Safety Conference. From 23th until the 24th of February 2016 it is time again for the largest safety conference of the business aviation. Attendees cover the whole community of the business aviation, as well as accident investigators, air traffic controllers and safety management specialists.

EBASCON, the European Business Aviation Safety Conference, is recognized as the premier forum for the discussion and exchange of safety information for corporate and business aviation operators. EBASCON is the only 2 day conference in Europe for the business aviation community and is held once a year in several European countries, to share knowledge and provide attendees with the latest information about flight safety related topics. Organised by human resources specialist, Aviation Screening, EBASCON 2016 promotes information and shared knowledge on all aspects of flight safety management, featuring top speakers from Europe and the USA. Each of the conference presentations aims to deliver specific information about safety and quality, dedicated solely to the business aviation community that can be applied directly to daily operations

Delegates will meet for the sixth edition of this prestigious annual event - the largest aviation safety conference in Europe - on February

23th and 24th in Frankfurt, Germany. Participate in active networking, meet new and relevant people of other companies' flight operations, engage in sharing ideas with others and find out about the latest trends within the industry as well as from suppliers.
